Instruction: Dishwasher is not running properly again - same issue as previous it has stopped working and making a whirring noise with its lights flashing. TT's advised previously from engineer that- The engineer explained the "whirring" noise was the pump trying to drain the water, but he mentioned there was some water in the bottom of the machine which is why the pump was continually running making the "whirring" noise and preventing the machine performing its cycle. He drained this water, but I assume the water has built up again. From what I understood the water could build up because of a leak in the dishwasher or because of an issue with pipes/sink and water flowing back into the dishwasher. The smell from the sink/pipes has improved, but I wonder whether the issues could be connected.
