Instruction:	Please can you attend to investigate fault with washing machine as tenant has advised; Regarding the washing machine, we opened the latch and cleared some minor fluff that had gathered, but it seems there's a piece in it that doesn't screw back on properly and that's what's apparently causing the noise. We tried running another cycle but it didn't spin and dry in the end. We can try one more time tonight but the piece might be broken and a lot of water comes out each time you open the latch which cannot be contained and ends up running into the floorboards underneath.
